

Lung Auscultation Points

Abnormal Airway Sounds

- Snoring - sound that can occur when the upper airway is obstructed (anatomically or mechanically)
- Stridor/Crowing - high pitched wheezing sound that can occur with airflow is disrupted by a blockage in the larynx.
- Wheezing. High-pitched sounds produced by narrowed airways.
- Rales (Crackles). Small clicking, bubbling, or rattling sounds in the lungs. They are heard upon inhalation. ...
- Rhonchi. Low pitched rattling sound that can be heard during inspiration and expiration...